Client need

Improvement teams benefit from ongoing exposure to expert thinking and peer practice, but hospitals rarely have direct, recurring access to leaders who have solved the problems they face. Questions arise continuously as teams work on SQPE priorities, and waiting for formal engagements slows progress.

These sessions are typically requested by quality, nursing and patient experience leaders who want their teams to learn directly from Cleveland Clinic experts on a regular basis.

Questions we help you answer

- How do our teams stay current with Cleveland Clinic practice?
- Can we hear from Cleveland Clinic experts on the topics we choose?
- Where can our teams bring questions as they work on our priorities?

What you receive

- Monthly Speaker Series sessions led by Cleveland Clinic experts
- SQPE and nursing Knowledge Sharing Sessions on member-requested topics
- Speaker Series session recordings shared with attendees
- Annual calendar of planned Speaker Series topics

How it works

The Monthly Speaker Series runs as live virtual sessions open to member caregivers. Knowledge Sharing Sessions are scheduled on request, with the member proposing topics and Cleveland Clinic matching the right expert.

Speaker Series sessions run monthly throughout the membership year; Knowledge Sharing Sessions are scheduled as requested.

Expected outcomes

- ✓ Ongoing access to Cleveland Clinic expertise between formal engagements
- ✓ Faster answers to emerging SQPE questions
- ✓ Stronger professional development for quality and nursing teams
- ✓ A deeper working relationship between member teams and Cleveland Clinic experts
