01 CLIENT NEED

Greenfield hospitals, academic medical centers, integrated delivery networks and national transformation programs involve substantial capital, many stakeholders and long ramps to financial sustainability. Coordinated decisions on sites, services, phasing and partnership structures, often spanning borders and organizations, cannot be made through a collection of individual business cases. Sponsors, investors, ministries and system leaders need an end-to-end, scenario-tested financial strategy before committing to construction, expansion or a partnership.

This is a Premium International offering for higher-complexity engagements, typically requested by governments, investors and health systems undertaking large healthcare developments or partnerships.

02 CLEVELAND CLINIC VALUE PROPOSITION

Cleveland Clinic brings the combined perspective of a global health system operator and an international advisor. Through International & Emerging Markets, Cleveland Clinic has supported hospital development, partnerships and health system planning in multiple countries.

Clients gain access to senior finance advisors who understand both the financial mechanics of large healthcare investments and the operational realities of building and running hospitals, adapted to local market and regulatory conditions.
