01 CLIENT NEED

Culture change in safety, communication and improvement does not scale through external trainers alone. Hospitals need internal faculty who can deliver proven programs, adapt them to local context and sustain them after an engagement ends.

Requests typically come from CNOs, CMOs, quality leaders and patient experience leaders who want to embed Cleveland Clinic methods across their workforce and reduce long-term reliance on outside support.

02 CLEVELAND CLINIC VALUE PROPOSITION

These programs use the curricula Cleveland Clinic applies with its own caregivers, including Communicate with HEART for all caregivers and R.E.D.E. to Communicate for physicians and advanced practice providers, alongside High Reliability, Just Culture and Performance Improvement.

Cleveland Clinic prepares member faculty through a combination of on-site and eLearning instruction, so the member gains internal trainers [confirm certification] and the materials to teach independently.

03 KEY DELIVERABLES

- Communicate with HEART train-the-trainer (all caregivers)
- R.E.D.E. to Communicate train-the-trainer (physicians and APPs)
- High Reliability train-the-trainer
- Just Culture train-the-trainer
- Performance Improvement train-the-trainer
- Trainer materials and facilitation guides for local delivery

04 DELIVERY MODEL

On-site / Hybrid / Workshop-based

Each program combines eLearning preparation with on-site, workshop-based training led by Cleveland Clinic faculty. Member trainers then deliver the program locally, with Cleveland Clinic available for follow-up support.

05 TYPICAL DURATION

[X to X] weeks per program

Members may select one or more programs; each typically includes eLearning pre-work, an on-site training visit and a follow-up period as trainers begin local delivery.
